Einleitung

Lucky J - Can you hear me

Kapitel 1

You're sitting alone in the dark
Playing the guitar
Singing a Song you wrote long time ago
Battle with the Tears in your eyes
You're missing him
Missing him a lot

Can you hear me? My story?
I don't need anything, I just need you
When I say can you try to listen boy
Don't say that, please don't say goodbye

Your Relationship goes more than three years
You still love him but he's gone

Can you hear me? My story?
I don't need anything, I just need you
When I say can you try to listen boy

Every day every night, we tell the same story
I can't stand hearing you say you're sorry anymore
Please stop, you're becoming more pathetic
There's no way say no more

He don't love you anymore
He has another one to love

I'm like a clown who's lost his laugh in front of you
Just standing there without a word
I know that it's all my fault
Can't we turn it back? The possibility of you and me
No matter how much I think about it, there's no answer, it's like we're buffering
I'm tired of us not getting along
My tears are so typical, stop saying those cringing words

Can you hear me? My story?
I don't need anything, I just need you
When I say can you try to listen boy
Don't say that, please don't say goodbye

I'm so sorry
I did a mistake
I want you back
But There's no way

When I'm here with you, my heart doesn't pound
I don't feel anything when we say I love you
Please don't do this, end it here (bye bye bye bye)
No love no more

I told you several times that we should just end it
I can't take these talks about emotions anymore
Is he calling you right now?
Can't you feel my heart rate increasing?
I don't care who you meet now
I'm as indifferent as can be, You have no feelings for me
It's like looking out the soundproof window
The last stop to our tiring journey

Can you hear me? My story?
I don't need anything, I just need you
When I say can you try to listen boy
Don't say that, please don't say goodbye

You wish he Would be here
With you
You wish he could kiss you the last time
But he's gone
You have to accept it
You have to learn how to live
Without him
